

At Vafis Olive Oil we strongly believe in entrepreneurial extroversion. We believe that our homegrown high quality olive oil can reach anywhere in the world market via well organized and firm business relationships. We turn this belief into actions: our products have already reached consumers in various countries in Europe and the US. We expand our product range, we participate in international food expos and receive awards. We want to begin with you a firm and profitable new partnership with mutual gain from the promotion of our unique olive oil to the international marketplace.
